

John Almeron Perry passed away on December 7, 2009, leaving behind many friends and family, and a loving wife who will miss him every day.

John was born and raised in Spokane Washington. He attended Shadle High School there and then went on to Ellensburg, Washington for college. He was drafted into the Army and served his country during the Vietnam era. After returning from the service, he returned to Spokane, working many jobs including the 1974 World's Fair, Goodwill Industries, hospice of Spokane, suicide hot line and The Aids Network. He moved to San Francisco in the 1980's and returned to Spokane in the late 1980's. For the last fifteen years of his life, John was been a home health care provider, caring for many patients in their homes who were on hospice care. He was a loving and excellent care provider. John's father was an MD and his mother and sister were both nurses, so health care was a natural occupation for him. He loved helping people.

John was an avid reader and did some volunteer work at the Belgrade library. In 2006, he married Gladys Campbell and moved to Belgrade, MT where he continued in the health care business. Although their life together was a very short time, it was a wonderful three years. They enjoyed many beautiful times.

John was preceded in death by his father, Dr. Almeron T. Perry, and his mother, Jean Bell Perry. He is survived by his wife, Gladys; his sister, Judy (Eric) Perry Gould; three nieces and their children; and brothers in law, Robert (Judy) Poelman, Clarence (Vicky) Poelman, David (Jenny) Poelman, Stanley (Lou Joi) Poelman, and four nieces and nephews in the Poelman side of the family.

We love you, John, and you will always be in our hearts. You have touched our lives forever.
