

A valiant battle fought by a loving husband, father and grandfather has ended.

Early morning on December 5th 2008 Roland A. Reed, 78 of Bozeman, Montana, met his Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, and was made completely whole, a new man with no pain or illness.

He was reunited with loved ones who have gone on before, and multitudes of angels are rejoicing!

A great provider for his family, Roland worked until a series of strokes forced him to retire. Like his Lord and Savior he too was a carpenter by trade, but his true gift was telling jokes. How he remembered so many is a mystery.

Roland loved to hunt and fish, and would never turn down a piece of pie. He had only three kinds he liked, "hot, cold and more!"

You were a great father and we will never forget your patience and persistence as you taught us to stand on our own. Always available to lend a helping hand, your family always came first, and your legacy will live on through your many children and grandchildren.

We love you Dad!
