

David N. Weinstein died on December 21, 2009 at the age of 63 after a lengthy battle with brain cancer, in Bozeman, Montana where he had lived since 2008. David leaves three daughters, Anna, Alison and Gillian and their mother Dorothy Shea; three grandchildren, Tobias, George and Sarah; his sister Wendy Fish; many beloved nieces and nephews and his companion of the last several years, Dee Mullen.

Before retiring in 2008, he was an attorney in St. Johnsbury, Vermont for nearly 40 years. He began his legal career for Kyle T. Brown, and then became Deputy State's Attorney for Caledonia County. Before entering private practice, he handled more than 400 jury trials. He especially enjoyed coaching the St. Johnsbury 8th grade mock trial program for almost 20 years. For many of those years, he simultaneously ran two national companies, National Ski Credit Association and American Boardsailing Credit Association, with his beloved father, James Julian. During his career, he also taught a high school American History class at Burke Mountain Academy, was elected three times as a county prosecutor, and took an active part raising three wonderful daughters.

David was passionate about non-profits, and served multiple terms as a trustee of the St. Johnsbury Athenaeum and was an active docent in their art gallery. He served on the Board of Trustees of Burke Mountain Academy for 15 years. He was member of the Kiwanis Club for many years, the St. Johnsbury Players, the Democratic Party, and was elected as a justice of the peace for multiple terms. He was a founding member of the Do-Nothing Club. Upon moving to Bozeman, he became a docent at the Museum of the Rockies.

David was born and raised in Boston, and was a life-long member of Red Sox nation. He graduated from Middlebury College in 1968 and from the University of Maine School of Law in 1971. An avid skier since childhood, some of his nicest memories were of cresting Tower 13 at Burke Mountain.

In 2006 he started to attend the Peacham Congregational Church, and became a member shortly thereafter. The Rev. Robert Potter remains a close friend. There will be memorial service on Wednesday at 2 pm at the Pilgram United Congregational Church in Bozeman. Memorial donations may be made to the St. Johnsbury Athenaeum or the Bozeman Deaconess Cancer Center.
