

Candace L. Clark died September 29, 2009 one day before her 82nd birthday. She was born to Wes and Florence Davis of Belgrade Montana and grew up on her family farm on Penwell Bridge Road. She graduated from Bozeman High School in 1945. Candace went on to Montana State College in Bozeman where she met the love of her life, Clyde Clark.

Candy belonged to the sorority, Pi Beta Phi, at MSC and became a "sweet heart" of Sigma Chi, Clyde's fraternity. Clyde and Candy married in 1948 and had a loving sixty year marriage. During that time they traveled extensively throughout the world following her husband's military career. Her first two children were born in Germany where her husband was stationed. Her third child was born in England when her husband worked at the embassy in London.

Candy and Clyde retired on her ranch in 1972, but continued to enjoy traveling especially to England where they had made life long friends. Candace was the epitome of an iconic lady, she was a tremendous homemaker, community supporter and long time friend to many people.

Candace belonged to: St. James Episcopal Church alter guild, Chapter F of PEO, Book Clubs, and Investment Club. She so enjoyed entertaining and cooking for her friends, including a Gourmet Dinner Groups and Bridge Clubs.

She will be sorely missed. She is survived by her daughter, Sidney L. Clark- McElroy; sons, Thomas Clark and Wesley Clark; and grandchildren, Anne Clark and Matthew Clark.

There will be a memorial service for Candace Clark at St. James Episcopal Church on West Olive Street in Bozeman at 11 a.m. Saturday October 3, 2009.
